CTAP funded RV park completed

The first completed project to use funding from Elk Point's Community Tourism Action Plan was inspected by MLA John Drobot, Mayor Bruce Kleeberger, CTAP Chairman Dave Yake, Town Administrator Pat Vincent and Public Works Superintendent Ron Fraess last Friday, with proud developer John Yakemchuk on hand to show off his very fine facility.

Fort George Recreational Vehicle Park, located immediately south of Fort George Motel on Highway 41, boasts water, electricity and cable television hookups at all 17 of its sites, with sewer connections also available in 11 of these. Three of the fully serviced sites are pull-through, a type of site much favored by travellers with long RV units. The sites offer gravelled parking lanes and grassed areas with firepits and picnic tables. Newly planted trees indicate future shade and increasingly attractive surroundings in the future. A washroom building with showers has wheelchair access.

MLA Drobot presented Yakemchuk with a cheque for $19,808.45 in grant funding from the Alberta Lottery Fund. A total of $30,474.54 from the CTAP funding was allocated to the project, which Mayor Kleeberger and CTAP Chairman Yake agreed was a very worthwhile addition to Elk Point, and one which will be a great advantage to the travelling public.

First fall meeting for chamber

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce held their first meeting following the two month summer recess on September 5, with 10 members present to hear reports on summer activities.

President Millie Orr reported on the plans for recruiting additional physicians for Elk Point, a matter which became imperative during August with the departure of Dr. Frank Estey. Mrs. Orr represented the Chamber at a meeting with Town Council and representatives of the Hospital and Hospital Board, at which the situation was studied in depth, as well as a subsequent meeting to set terms of reference for a physician recruitment committee consisting of representatives of each of the four groups. Mark Wilson was appointed to sit on this committee as a representative of the Chamber. This committee will send representation to the Health Care Connection '90 in Edmonton early in October, and as Wilson is unavailable on that date, another Chamber rep will be sent along.

The problems to be faced in bringing physicians to small towns such as Elk Point include heavy workloads with many nights on call, no suitable jobs available for spouses who may have professions of their own in other fields, and the cost of starting up a practice. To help alleviate the latter, the Hospital Board is offering 3 months free rent and a fully equipped clinic, while the Town is helping out by waiving the tax bill on the clinic for those 3 months.

Several doctors have been approached, and at least two have shown an interest. Dr. Edward Kennair will be in Elk Point on a part time basis until November, to share Dr. McNeilly's considerably increased workload.

Billie Milholland reported on Tourist Information Booth operations for the summer, which were shared by herself and Marnie McCowan. The two ladies welcomed a total of 1407 visitors, an increase of over one thousand from last year's recorded numbers. In addition, the booth was made more attractive by planting flowers, displaying posters of events, and offering souvenirs of the historical mural, fur trading forts and town for sale.

Ms Milholland reported that the Discover Lakeland guide, Alberta Touring Guide, Accommodation and Campground guides were the most popular items given out, along with provincial maps and the Elk Point brochures. The latter were considered very useful, she noted, but offered several additions to be made in the next printing, including more street numbering, location of Elks Hall and churches.

The long standing problem of large units not being able to pull in to the booth was noted once again. Easy access, preferably to a location on the east side of Highway 41 to serve the largely northbound tourist traffic, was suggested as being of prime importance in planning a future site for an expanded Information Booth.

RV Park Funded By CTAP

MLA John Drobot presents Fort George RV Park owner John Yakemchuk with grant funding obtained through Elk Point's Community Tourism Action Plan. CTAP Chairman Dave Yake and Mayor Bruce Kleeberger were also on hand to admire the newly completed facility.

Council meets municipal advisor

Elk Point Town Council met at length with Municipal Advisor Linda McDonald at last Tuesday's regular meeting. Ms McDonald discussed various facets of Town operations, policy and procedures with Council, and made a number of suggestions for improvements. She attended the meeting as part of the Town's Annual Corporate Review, which continued Wednesday. Ms McDonald sat in on the Council meeting to observe the way it was conducted, and later had favorable comments to make on the smooth and agreeable way it had proceeded.

Business at Tuesday's meeting was varied. Parking of heavy vehicles in residential areas was discussed, and it was noted that the Land Use Bylaw has clauses which prohibit this. One concern is the potential damage to roads, since some residential areas have pavement which is not meant for heavy vehicle traffic.

A subdivision application asking permission to move a boundary between two Industrial Subdivision lots by 10 feet, and combine the larger of these with another adjacent lot to facilitate a development, was approved.

Stanley Engineering's report on street upgrading and utility line replacement was discussed. The report lists storm sewer installation as the first priority, and although this is very costly, Council agreed that it would be the logical thing to do first, if money is available for the project, which could cost up to $437,000. The availability of grant funding will be looked into. The next steps suggested in the plan are camera investigation of present utility lines, soil survey, and design of new utility lines where needed.

Two quotes for the purchase of a new backhoe have been received. Council had questions regarding service and warranty available for the two makes, also they wish to contact other municipalities who use each type to find out their experiences with them, and their likes and dislikes regarding the units.

The Utilities Committee recommendation that $150,000 be budgeted for the purchase of above ground pipe, pumps, pipe racks and trailers in the 1991 budget was reviewed by Council, and returned to the Finance Committee for further consideration. This is a low cost alternative solution to the very expensive project of pumping water from the North Saskatchewan River on a permanent basis. It would also give the Town flexibility if an alternate water source is found in the future.

A suggestion made earlier that a 4-way stop sign be installed at the corner of 50 Street and Railway Avenue was brought back to Council with the recommendation that instead, the first two angle parking spaces west of

Taxes roll in

Over eighty percent of 1990 property taxes had been received by the Town of Elk Point by closing time on August 31, Administrator Pat Vincent told Town Council Tuesday evening. This figure does not include those which were received in the mail Tuesday, which were postmarked August 31 or earlier. Vincent said that $256,000 of the $600,000 so far collected came in on Friday, the final day on which taxes could be paid to avoid the penalty for late payment.

Pleased With Progress

Mayor Bruce Kleeberger, MLA John Drobot and Town Administrator Pat Vincent declared themselves very pleased with the new widened aspect of Highway 41, north of Elk Point, which has become known locally as 'the Drobot Trail' because of the continuing efforts of MLA Drobot, which have resulted in the much needed improvements.

MLA and mayor visit highway improvements

MLA John Drobot and Mayor Bruce Kleeberger toured the construction underway on Highway 41 north of Elk Point last Friday, and both agreed that the widened highway will be a definite improvement.

Mayor Kleeberger expressed special thanks to Drobot, noting that the project had been "discussed for years, and years, and years" and promised during the last provincial election campaign. The construction is "clear evidence that the Alberta Government is gradually completing the projects they promised," but Kleeberger feels that the action on this project is "by and large due to the pressure exerted by our local Member. Without that, it would have been shelved forever."

Drobot himself thinks the improvements are of great importance. "They mean a lot to the community and the travelling public." He commended the Minister of Transportation for approving the project at a time when fiscal restraint is being practiced, and indicated that this and the paving of the easternmost portion of Secondary Highway 646 west of its junction with Highway 41 are not the only improvements to be made in the area this year, with funding finally in place to pave the balance of Secondary 646 to its junction with Secondary 881 this fall.

Elk Point Town Administrator Pat Vincent, who joined Kleeberger and Drobot on the tour of the construction area, said that Elk Point has been very fortunate in obtaining "just about everything on their wish list."

Harvest well underway

Harvest is well underway in the Elk Point area, although weekend showers halted operations for a few days once again. This week's report estimates that 95 percent of canola, 90 percent of barley, 80 percent of oats and 50 percent of wheat now swathed. Around 40 percent of both canola and barley have now been combined, as well as 15 percent of oats and 10 percent of wheat.

Yields per acre are estimated at 544 kg of wheat, 617 kg of oats, 871 kg of barley and 454 kg of canola. Canola has been least affected by poor moisture conditions over the summer, as far as grade is concerned, with 90 percent expected to grade 1 Canada, with 5 percent each 2 Canada and 3 Canada. Barley also is grading reasonably well, with 90 percent at 1CW and the remainder at 2CW, while wheat suffered the most, with only 20 percent grading 2CWRS and the balance 3CWRS.

F.G. Miller High gets school year underway

It was back to the books at F. G. Miller High School last week, with two new teachers on the staff, and enrollment down slightly from 1989-90 school year figures.

Angela Friesen, who teaches Business Education, English 33 and Language Arts 8, is a graduate of the University of Lethbridge, and is now living in Elk Point, where she is really enthusiastic about working at F. G. Miller.

Randall Kryns of St. Paul is not a total newcomer to FGM, having interned here several years ago during his university studies. He has been working in Lac La Biche since he graduated, and is now back in Elk Point to teach Music, Physical Education and some English classes.

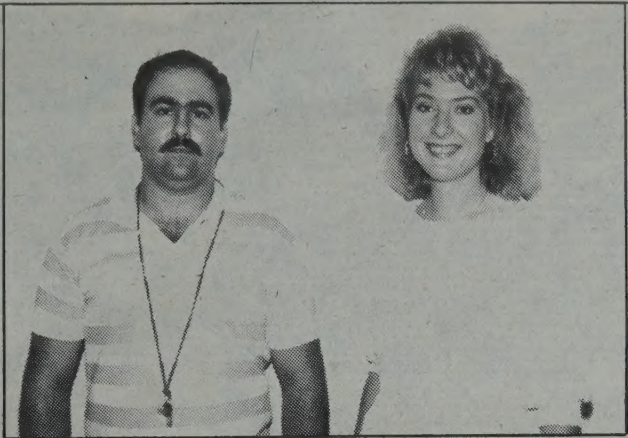

The two teachers replace three full time teachers, Rod Lis, Eloise Gunns and Henry Joly, who have left the staff, and part time teacher Don Buryn, who is now teaching full time at Elk Point Elementary.

Principal Jim Hawkins says that all programs have been maintained despite the reduction in staff. The only casualties were a reduction in credits for Physical Education and cancellation of Law 30.

"We are offering a strong basic program despite the cutbacks," Hawkins said, adding that it "took some piecing together," but has been accomplished.

He reports that enrollment as of September 7 was down 17 students from last year's figures, but the figure is climbing daily and may well reach the 1989-90 total by month's end.

Mark your calendars for the first PTA meeting of the year, on Wednesday, October 10 at 7:00 p.m.—all parents are welcome.

New Staff At FGM

Randall Kryns and Angela Friesen have joined the teaching team at F. G. Miller High School, and are looking forward to a busy and challenging school year.

the intersection be removed to allow better visibility of the corner for vehicles approaching from both the north and west. Council felt this was a good idea, and would cause less traffic congestion.

Three applications for the vacant seat on the Community Services Board were reviewed, and the position given to Colleen Simon.

The Mural Park Committee report shows that the park is indeed progressing, with landscaping to commence September 7, benches and tables nearing completion. An expected engineering report on the bridge has not yet been received. The project manager has accepted a full time job, so the other members of the committee are supervising the project in her absence.

Mayor Kleeberger reported on the Physician Recruitment Committee meeting, at which Hospital Board representative Orest Capjack was appointed chairman and Hospital Administrator Clem Johnson secretary. Incentives were discussed by the committee, and it was determined that the hospital will offer the clinic for three rent-free months to an incoming physician. Council agreed to offer the hospital free taxes for the clinic for those three months, at a cost of approximately $300 to the Town. Administrator Pat Vincent was approved to attend the Health Care Connection in Edmonton with the Mayor, Hospital Administrator and other resource people.

The possible danger arising from an unfenced swimming pool was discussed. Provincial statutes indicate that a 6 foot high fence is required, with a padlocked gate and locked access ladder, on privately owned pools. This was referred to the Municipal Planning Commission for review and consideration of the need for a bylaw.

The annual request for forgiveness of municipal taxes was received from the Elks Lodge, and was given its usual approval.

Council will review the package of resolutions to be brought before the AUMA Annual Conference, for discussion at the September 17 meeting. Pat Vincent was approved to attend the conference, along with Councillor Adele Mandryk.

In Our View

Smile - we're a tourist attraction

Statistics recorded at Elk Point's Tourist Information Centre this year indicate a huge 250 percent increase in tourist traffic over last year. This may seem like an incredible jump, but the truth is that more tourists were on the roads in this area this year. Local businesses, especially those along the highway, also noticed the upswing.

We aren't sure why the number of visitors more than tripled, although the spruced up appearance of the Information Centre, and the friendly travel advisors who encouraged bus tour visitors and out-of-towners who stopped at nearby businesses to come in for information on what to see in Elk Point and vicinity and to sign the guest book, obviously helped. They were able to arrange tours of the museum for many of the visitors, and pointed out directions to the mural park, as well as offering advice on the best places to camp, fish and sightsee locally.

The staff were encouraged to see people stopping more and staying in town longer, and wished that there was some suitable place for long RV units to park, as many of these potential visitors just slowed down and looked, then went on by.

The problem of large unit access, as well as cramped quarters at the Information Centre itself, is presently being addressed. A committee of the Chamber of Commerce has studied a number of possible sites, and the Community Tourism Action Committee is now considering a short list of four of these. Improved information services will further encourage an increase in visitors stopping in Elk Point.

A place to stay is of prime importance to holidayers, and Elk Point now has not one, but two campgrounds to offer. One is rustic in flavor, a quiet place to camp with tent, trailer or camper away from it all on the edge of a scenic ravine at the recreation land, while the other is ultra-modern and offers everything up to and including cable television for the RV traveller, at a site easy to access with large vehicles and near to amenities.

The widened Highway 41 and newly paved Secondary 646, which we hear will stretch all the way to Secondary 881 in the near future, will assist in bringing even more visitors to the area. The Fair Grounds will also bring more visitors in, as the Ag Society continues their development and schedules more events in their facility.

Many of the visitors who passed through the doors of the Information Centre remarked on the clean and neat appearance of the town, and the friendliness of the business people they encountered. This is a real pat on the back for Elk Point, and a trend which should be encouraged to continue.

In just over a year, we will be embarking on the biggest celebration of all time in Elk Point, the 1992 Bicentennial of Fort George and Buckingham House, a series of events which we hope will bring a massive influx of tourists to the area. With improved tourist infrastructure, and a positive attitude toward the visitors, Elk Point can really become known as a place people want to visit again and again, and a place they will recommend to their friends as a great place to go.

Alberta Trails

Thoughts after news

By Irene Magnusson

There is something wonderful—almost magical—in the electronic, airwaves, satellite bounced sounds we receive today, on radio, television, telephone, facsimile machines—and probably a lot of ways I've no notion of. We can know, within minutes, what occurs hundreds—thousands—of miles away.

We know the results of elections almost before the elected persons know they've been chosen. We hear of accidents, crimes, sometimes accomplishments, as soon as they occur. And the wars! Oh yes, we hear of the wars, and threats of wars, and curse of wars. Always the suffering, the misery, the starvation and deaths, as some power grasping monster, followed by untold thousands of robot-monsters, shoot, bomb, cut, harass, overrun and overpower some smaller, weaker group.

Surely, NOT hearing (and seeing) all this harrowing destruction on our radios and television could not, and would not, be lessening the tragedies and pain. It would still occur. But one gets the feeling that the perpetrators ENJOY their criminal brutalities more, just knowing they have this huge audience.

Look how happy and self-satisfied winners, of games, elections, contests, etc. appear when their followers and audiences clap and wave and cheer. Is there any reason to suppose that war-makers, criminals, bullies, butchers are any less pleased to have an audience following their every action? They thrive on it!

Wouldn't it be wonderful to awake some morning and open our newspapers or turn on radio or television, to read or hear only good news?

Let's see—how would that go? "Good morning! Today, no election is called—everyone is pleased with their politicians... everywhere. There are no starving people in Ethiopia, all are fat and flourishing—some have been seen working. No country is being invaded, overrun or harassed today. We have authenticated reports of no robberies, muggings or assaults. Police are being respected, honored and praised—while many are being returned to civilian life as there is little for them to do.

"No schools have been vandalized, as pupils return to classrooms after summer holidays, many accompanied by adults who are enrolling in literacy classes, having decided 'tis better far to read than not to read.

"All over the country, drivers are obeying speed limits, wearing seat belts, watching the road. No accidents are reported to this hour. There have been no break-ins overnight, no holdups, no murders, Short term prisoners are being released in droves, due to unreasonably good behavior.

"The former outlaw group at Oka has decided to let sweet reason reign, have relinquished their arms and are now talking sense.

"Today, in fact, has been so dull, with nothing gross to report, this newscast has decided to close early, so staff can go out and smell the flowers! Good day. May terror reign tomorrow, so we can get back to normal!"

Or would they close with such a wish? You decide. I'm sure it won't matter, as I am also sure such a "civilized" day will never come. But wouldn't it be great not to have to eat our oat flakes to the litany of death and destruction, hate, pain and misery we are greeted with each day?

Wouldn't it be wonderful if—in this great, generous world, where food rots on the trees and in the fields, no one went to bed hungry tonight? Where waste—of trees, forests, and other materials—is so rampant, if no one was without shelter from heat, cold, rain or snow tonight?

Just think how many cooking pots, or bathtubs or bedsteads could be made out of the metal in even one tank—let alone the armor of a giant battleship?

All these conjectures are, of course, only daydreams, for the good Lord, creator, or whatever put us here, was not stingy or mean with materials for our comfort or sustenance. The mistake was in not endowing humanity with enough brains to use what we have, for our own—and OTHERS'—benefit.

Letter to the Editor

Shattered lives

To the Editor:

In their eyes, their lives were shattered, never to be mended again. We try to explain about love, that sometimes parents fall out of love, that the spark that was once there has died. We try to make them see that it was not them who made us part. They feel that, if you stop saying you love each other, then you may stop loving them too. It kills me to think of how they are hurting and to see the smiles on their carefree faces disappear.

So, to all the parents, I would like to say, if you ever decide that your marriages with each other are over, really stop and think about the ones you are really hurting the most. Think about the parents you had to come home to. If you had a problem in school or fell off your bike, you could always run into the house and call for both of them and know that they were there for you. As a parent, I know now that, if I could turn back the time after seeing what I have done, I would never have done such a thing. It's already too late for me to do anything but you could stop and think about it, before you hurt the ones that you are living for. Their lives are what matter most and we have to make them understand that there was love when they were brought into this world and that the love that is left in your heart is there for them and will never die.

It takes two people to bring them life, so forget your pride and think about them. We can't take it out on them. If the parents could put aside all the hurt and hatred for one another and put the children first, maybe they would understand that they are not the reason for the divorce.

What's news at the library?

September 14, 1990 is Read In Day in Elk Point! What is a Read In? It is a challenge among communities in Alberta to see how many of their citizens can be involved in a reading activity on this day during World Literacy Week. Spend at least 15 minutes reading to yourself or to someone else. Come into the Library, a Read-In Site, and read a magazine, a book, pamphlet, etc. and register on our tally sheet. Pamphlets on World Literacy Week are available at the Library.

NEW BOOKS

Harvest by Belva Plain--In the continuing saga of the magnificent Werner family, Iris, the daughter of the beautiful and passionate Anna, whose love affair with Paul Werner unfolded in Evergreen and continued through The Golden Cup and Tapestry, brings old friends into new times and introduces us to new friends we will come to know and cherish.

The Burden of Proof by Scott Turow--Late one spring afternoon, Alejandro "Sandy" Stern, the leading defense attorney in the midized Midwestern city where he lives, comes home from a business trip to find that Clara, his wife of thirty years, has committed suicide. Readers of Presumed Innocent will remember Stern as the brilliant, elegant and elusive lawyer who masterminded the defense of Rusty Sabich.

Four Past Midnight by Stephen King--The flat surface of a Polaroid photograph becomes, for fifteen year old Kevin Delavan, an invitation to the supernatural. Another novel by this famous author who keeps you awake at night.

Gretzky: An Autobiography--Wayne Gretzky writes with the help of Rick Reilly, about hockey as no one else ever has, especially the great Stanley Cup and Canada Cup victories, and his many teammates and opponents over the years.

We have received four more books in the Degrassi series. They are: Melanie, Lucy, Joey Jeremiah and Stephanie Kaye.

New music cassettes on the music stand are: The Dan Hill Collection by Dan Hill; Look Sharp by Roxette; The Boys Are Back by Sawyer Brown, Born On The Fourth Of July by Tom Cruise, Dance...Ya Know It! by Bobby Brown; Wild, Wild West by the Escape Club; Greatest Hits 1982-1989 by Chicago; Greatest Hits Sound of Money by Eddie Money; Made In The USA by the Beach Boys; and Loc-ed After Dark by Tone Loc.

Adult choir begins season

The Elk Point and District Adult Choir has begun its new season with weekly practices being held in the music room of Elk Point Elementary School on Sunday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The thirty three member choir, which was formed last January, invites all adults, including students grade 10 and up, who are interested in singing in four part harmony to join them as they prepare for an active and fulfilled year. It is not necessary to be able to read music to be a part of this choir which is diversified in age, talent and interest.

The success of any community group is dependent upon the support given to it by the community in general, and the choir is no exception. The successful start which it experienced last year can be attributed to this factor and the choir gratefully acknowledges the donations made by the Lioness Club, the Order of the Royal Purple, the Elks, Norcen Energy Resources, Amoco and Millie's Flowers and Crafts. A special thanks is extended to everyone who attended the premiere performance on June 7, 1990 and the Elk Point United Church Board for donating the use of their facilities for that function. The choir would also like to thank the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club for giving up two of their bingos this summer so that the choir could raise some money in order to attain self sufficiency in the new season. The choir is looking forward to working cooperatively with all groups within the community and reciprocating the generosity which was bestowed upon them, by sharing their gifts of music.

Please, before you use deep tilling equipment, even though warning signs are posted, call Alberta 1st Call at 1-800-242-3447. One Call could save your life!
